Bank of Dade Celebrates 70 Years with Customer Appreciation Month in November

TRENTON, GA

Throughout November, Bank of Dade will hold special giveaways every business day, with prizes including $70 gift cards commemorating the bank's 70th anniversary, 70-inch televisions, and other exciting prizes.

Bank of Dade is celebrating its 70th anniversary by dedicating the entire month of November to the customers and community who have supported the locally owned institution for seven decades.

The monthlong celebration is a way for the bank to express its gratitude to the generations of customers who have made its success possible.

Bank of Dade first opened its doors on January 12, 1956, following the efforts of local community leaders who recognized the need for a hometown financial institution. What began as a small bank on Trenton's town square has grown into an important part of Dade County's financial and economic history.

Today, Bank of Dade proudly remains the only locally owned bank in Dade County, with local ownership, local employees, and a commitment to making decisions that benefit the community it serves.

Throughout its history, Bank of Dade has maintained a strong tradition of community involvement. From supporting local schools, scholarships, and youth programs to sponsoring community events, providing financial education, and participating in economic development initiatives, the bank has consistently demonstrated that its commitment extends well beyond banking.

For 70 years, the bank has helped generations of families purchase homes, supported local businesses, and provided customers with dependable financial services and personal attention. While banking technology has changed considerably since 1956, the bank's dedication to building lasting relationships and treating customers like neighbors remains unchanged.

As Bank of Dade celebrates this historic milestone, Customer Appreciation Month serves as a reminder that the bank's greatest strength has always been the people and community behind it.

Seventy years of local ownership, community commitment, and customer relationships — and Bank of Dade looks forward to serving Dade County for generations to come.
