Back-to-School Safety Tips for North Georgia & Tennessee Families

August marks the midpoint of the summertime for many, and as families prepare for a new school year, safety should be a top priority for everyone hitting the roads and sidewalks. The return to school means more children and parents walking, biking, and driving to and near schools and daycares in North Georgia and Chattanooga, TN. August also signals a return to work for many adults, especially teachers in North Georgia and Chattanooga, TN.

South Georgia staffing company finds strength through UGA SBDC strategic support

When Brianna and Jason Wilson purchased a small staffing company in Leesburg, Georgia, in 2013, they saw more than just a business opportunity—they saw a chance to make a difference in their community. Today, that company, Southern Point Staffing (SPS), offers staffing solutions for both temporary and skilled career-focused positions, along with payroll services, employee training and screening. With guidance from the University of Georgia Small Business Development Center (UGA SBDC), the Wilsons have doubled their workforce, grown revenue by more than 50% and are on track to open a new location in Savannah.

The UGA SBDC has supported the business at every stage, from restructuring debt and increasing cash flow to identifying operational inefficiencies and improving profitability. The Wilsons began their journey into business ownership long before those milestones with little staffing industry experience but a strong desire to learn and grow. Jason Wilson worked as a certified electrician, and Brianna Wilson had spent years in retail, opening stores for brands like Old Navy and Gymboree.

After returning to school for a business degree and working part-time in various roles at a local staffing company, Brianna Wilson found her calling.

“I like working with people, so coaching and training was something that was already near and dear to my heart,” she said. “I worked directly with the employees and the appreciation they showed for helping them find a job was just so rewarding. I just fell in love with the work.”
