RIISING FAWN GARDEN PARTNERS WITH GAIN- ING GROUND GROCERY TO PROVIDE SUSTAINABLE FOOD SOURCES TO THE PUBLIC.

The incredibly vibrant, sunset colors of Turmeric never cease to inspire. Although many other aspects of the farm have slowed, the Rising Fawn Gardens team has been busy harvesting Turmeric which has been staying cozy in their high tunnels. This year, as they wash and clean the Turmeric rhizomes, they are again enamored with their earthy smell that fills their workspace and hearts. They hope that you welcome this powerful anti-inflammatory friend into your homes this season.

Providing nourishing food is work that can never be done alone and this season they are delighted to announce their partnership with Gaining Ground Grocery. This grocery, a project of the Chattanooga Food Center, provides locally, sustainably grown foods at affordable prices for the community and will be serving as their main Turmeric retail partner this season. Throughout January, you can shop at Gaining Ground Grocery for all of your fresh Turmeric desires. They are located at 1918 Union Avenue, Chattanooga, Tennessee 37404 and open Wednesday - Saturday, 12pm - 6pm.

Please contact them directly if you have any questions, would like to order 5 pounds or more, or if you need assistance accessing Turmeric.

TV personality Mike Rowe awards scholarships to five Dade County lineman trainees

In an effort to boost interest and the number of workers in skilled trade careers, TV personality Mike Rowe has awarded partial scholarships to five students at a lineman school in Dade County.

Rowe, known for hosting the shows "Dirty Jobs" and "Somebody's Gotta Do It," made the announcement late last month on social media. His work ethic grant program was started 15 years ago and has awarded about $8 million to 2,000 people, the announcement said. This year, Rowe awarded a total of $675,000 to 124 people, including five men who started their 15-week lineman training course at the Trenton-based Southeast Lineman Training Center this week.

The scholarship is for people learning skilled trades rather than going to a traditional four-year university.
