From Fitness Trainer to Keto-Friendly Baker: UGA SBDC Helps Scale Small Business

Amber Connor was baking keto-friendly sweets out of her house, and she was ready to expand her business, Sinless Sweets. She connected with Rick McMurtrey, area director at the University of Georgia Small Business Development Center (UGA SBDC) in Augusta, to learn the best way to scale her business. McMurtrey helped her review potential retail locations, evaluate build-out costs, prepare financial projections and organize the financials and management of the business. Since working with the UGA SBDC, Sinless Sweets has moved to a brick-and-mortar location, experienced a 300% increase in sales and added six employees.

Connor, an avid fitness and nutrition enthusiast, was working as a personal trainer in a gym when the pandemic hit. The gym temporarily closed, and Connor needed to channel her energy in another direction.

“Baking was always a stress reliever for me, so I started baking as a way to cope, both professionally and personally,” she said.

Human Trafficking Prevention Awareness

DPH Launches Voluntary Awareness Training for EMS Personnel

The Georgia Department of Public Health Office of EMS and Trauma in partnership with Governor Brian Kemp, and First Lady Marty Kemp, is launching voluntary training for EMS personnel on how to identify potential victims of human trafficking. The EMS training is in conjunction with Human Trafficking Prevention Month and provides an opportunity to raise awareness and combat this heinous crime.

All Georgians are encouraged to take part in the First Lady's Human Trafficking Awareness Training. The training will also be available to the public on YouTube as a free and easily-accessible resource.

To report suspected human trafficking in Georgia, call the Statewide 24-Hour Human Trafficking Hotline at 1-866-ENDHTGA (1-866-363-4842). If you have reason to believe that a victim is in imminent danger, call 911 or your local law enforcement agency to file a report.
